Our Experience with Unconditional Agape Love: Part 1

My wife was a pivotal part of a ministry in St Marie's, ID. We were so integrated in that we lived on campus. Given the hours that she worked she spent nearly all her time on campus, which was out in the country, right where she loves to be.

Everything had been working great if I was away from the campus and driving for Uber. The day that changed everything began to turn upside down.

No longer was the campus able to demand all her time without rest. It was an unhealthy situation in the first place. I was soon to learn that the owner of the property was doing her best to drive a wedge between my wife and I even to the point of one day suggesting divorce while they were alone together. Things were spiraling out of control in a horrible way.

Neither of us could believe what was happening.

The campus had also bled us bone dry financially. I'm certain they knew that was the case. So, when the day came that they suggested we should move either in April or May we were shocked. We had no funds to go anywhere and would quite likely become homeless.

Our only recourse was to pray, and so we did.

We were both impressed with the idea of going to massage school. The only problem with that is such schooling requires capital and we had none.

How on earth would we be going to massage school without any money?

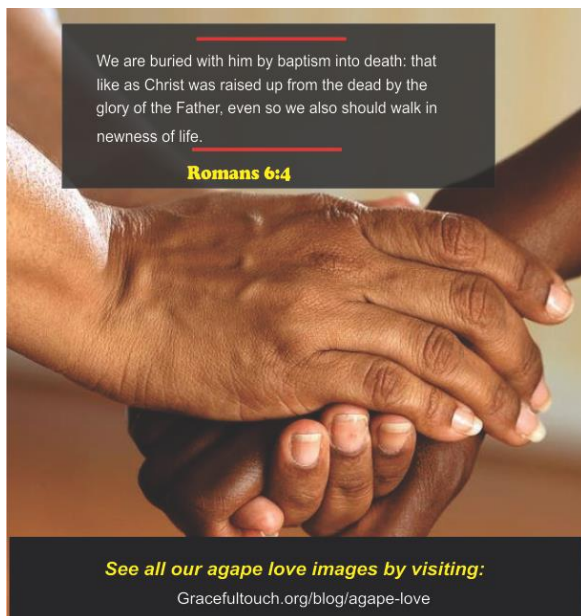

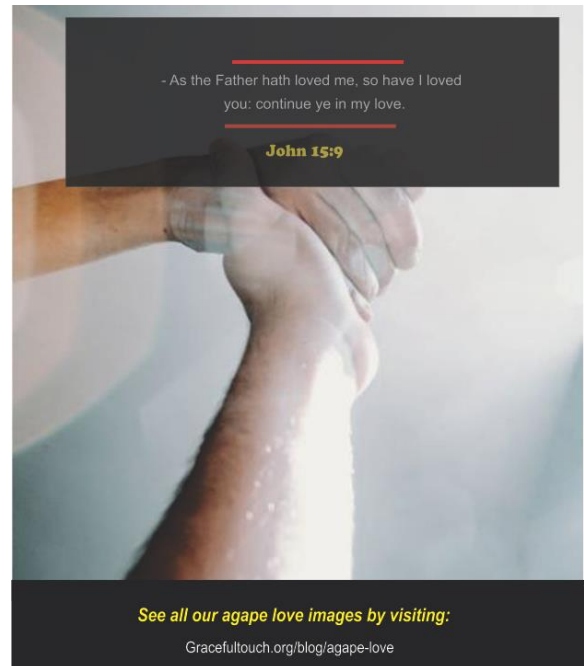

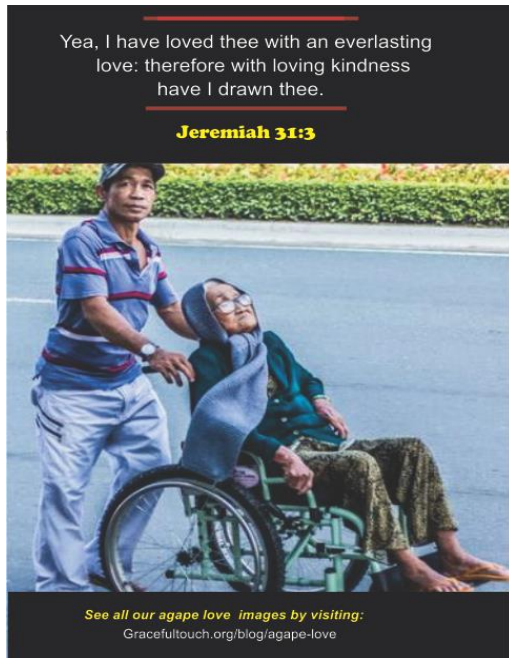

It seemed impossible.

In section 3 we will find out if God is preparing to pour out a miracle on our lives. However, first, let's identify the miracle of the school we found and how it fit into the entire equation in section 2 of this story.

Our Experience with Unconditional Agape Love: Part 2

Our path led us to contacting a massage school in South Dakota. Given that we were several states away it made no sense.

Turns out that they were starting a new class in May. Which was the exact month we were to be moving off campus. Everything seemed too good to be true but then we came to the full realization of everything taking place.

We had no money.

Massage school would take about 10K to be able to join.

When you have no money, it really doesn't matter how much something costs. The answer will be the same, without money to invest in our education.

What did we do at this point?

We called up the school and told them that we would not be coming. If you cannot afford to pay for what you are buying you simply don't buy it.

Of course, this brought us back to the drawing board of reality without even a dime in our pocket.

Our contact with the massage school suggested that we pray for God to work a miracle. We determined this to be good advice and did so.

Then the phone rang.

Who was on the phone?

That will be revealed in the 3rd and final chapter of this story which is at the bottom.

Our Experience with Unconditional Agape Love: Part 3

Friends.

Aren't they known to call people in this digital cellular world of ours?

Turns out that they wanted us to pay them a visit though we did not know exactly why.

And so, we did. It was a good visit too.

Near the end of our time together the reason for the visit began to unfold. They had watched what had happened to us within the ministry that we had belonged to and they wanted to show that they cared by pouring forth unconditional agape love upon our lives.

In what way?

They would be the ones to pay for our massage school training. When this came to the surface, we were utterly shocked as it was certainly not something we were expecting.

We agreed and made the transition for Washington state to South Dakota. We had no idea at the time that we were moving to one of the only states that would remain open during Covid.

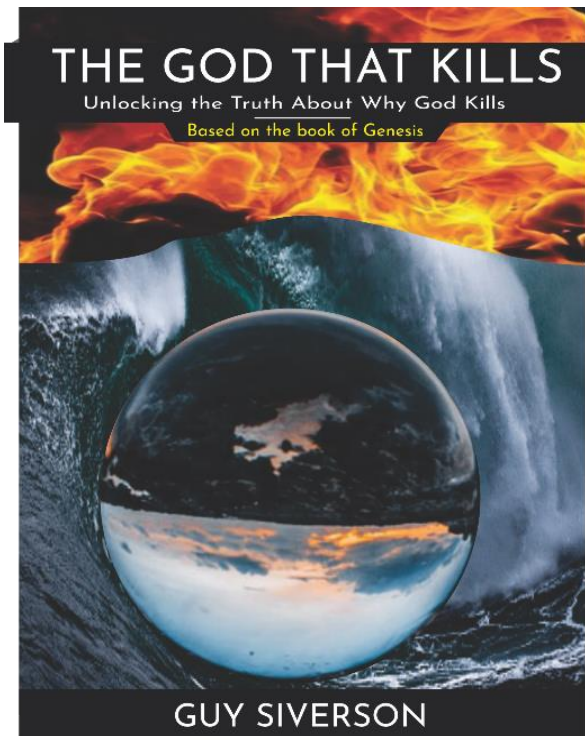

There have been numerous miracles that have taken place down this entire path. I'm sure if I tried to count them all I would be unable.

What I do know is that not once have they demanded repayment or anything. It is a gentlemen's agreement that there will be repayment but the when is up to us. We have even been given permission not to repay due to the financial instability that is taking place in the world today.

That is what I call unconditional agape love for another.

Our desire is not to take advantage of the generosity, but we were, are and always will be very touched by what happened.
